EINPresswire.com/ -- Wealth management firms are integrating artificial intelligence, machine learning and data analytics applications to provide hybrid services. Artificial Intelligence refer to intelligent machines that work and react like humans. AI helps to deliver insights to complex client questions in real time through its virtual conversational interface between business and clients. AI enabled applications such as natural language generation (NLG) is closing the gap between data analysis and investment decisions providing real-time insights in automated trading strategies. Wealth management firms are increasingly offering hybrid services including standardized and personalized advices to their clients globally. The need for standardization and personalization of advice mainly arises due to growing demand for consistent and robust solutions among consumers. In this regard, wealth management firms are producing computer-driven analysis to offer standardized advisory services, while also maintaining granularity in their offerings with bespoke solutions.
