UCROWDME 'World's 1st Idea Currency'

This is the first time a global mapping of startups has been planned to focus on the UN Sustainable Development Goals, known as the SDGs. Because these startups have the potential to have a good social and environmental impact as well as financial gains, they are referred to as "SDGs: Global Impact Startups."

This competition poses the following objectives:

1. Seek out the most innovative solutions to accelerate the Sustainable Development Goals achievement regarding viability, scalability and impact.
2. Gather and connect all actors of the global innovation and entrepreneurship ecosystem; Member States and public organisations; startups; academia; corporations; incubators and accelerators; and investors and venture builders.
3. Provide a platform for the exchange of knowledge, business models, successful business cases and general support among startups to foster disruption in their own strategy and in the economy as a whole.

In an effort to continue the growth and success of the competition, we ask for your support.
