

Bestselling Authors of The Forever Dog to Headline This Year's Healthy Dog Expo

The 3rd annual Healthy Dog Expo, set for March 19-20, 2022, will feature Dr. Karen Becker and Rodney Habib, NY Times bestselling authors of The Forever Dog.

ALBANY, NEW YORK, USA, November 30, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Every dog owner wants their dog to live forever, and no one understands that better than veterinarian Dr. Karen Becker and dog health advocate Rodney Habib, co-authors of the NY Times #1 Bestseller, The Forever Dog. The pair will be headlining an all-star panel of speakers at this year's Healthy Dog Expo, set for March 19-20 in Albany, N.Y, where they will share their insights into what dog owners can do right now to help their dogs live longer, healthier lives, even in the face of serious disease.

The graphic features a dark blue background with a starry pattern. At the top left, there is a photo of Susan Garrett with a dog. Below it is a photo of Steve Brown and Dr. Karen Becker. At the bottom left is a photo of Rodney Habib with two dogs. To the right of these photos is a large white box containing the event logo, dates, location, and a list of topics: Natural Diet, Behavior & Training, Holistic Cancer Treatment, and Natural Health Techniques and more!. Below the white box are photos of Susan Thixton and Dr. Kendra Pope. At the bottom of the graphic, the text 'HEALTHY DOG EXPO 2022' is written in large green letters, with 'Tickets/details at HealthyDogExpo.com' in smaller green text below it. The entire graphic is titled 'Speakers for the Healthy Dog Expo 2022' at the bottom.

With the success of the first two editions of the event, founder Dr. Laurie Coger is excited about being able to bring people together for a live event after almost two years of being limited to online virtual events. “There is such amazing energy at a live event, of being with people who share a passion for dogs and want to learn and share their experiences,” Dr. Coger explains. “An online event pales in comparison. The chance to talk face to face with leading experts, to meet and connect with the people behind the products that have saved many dogs, and the chance to learn about lifesaving therapies that are on the cutting edge of health and wellness does not exist anywhere else.”

Beyond the world-class speaking panel, the Expo will feature exhibitors and vendors from the natural side of the pet industry. Popular raw and minimally processed foods such as Dr. Harvey's and Green Juju will be attending, as will supplement brands including 1-TDC, CBD Dog Health, and Dr. Baker's System Saver. Physical therapy modalities will be represented by the makers of the Assisi Loop and Toto Fit physical therapy gear. Canine Camp Getaway, the nation's leading dog-centric vacation destination, will be there to share the news on June and September camps.

With the expansion to a one and one-half day program, Dr. Coger hopes to give attendees time to meet and talk with everyone. "This event will truly be a Disney World for the dog lover – with every direction they turn, they will see someone or something they want to know more about. It's the perfect holiday gift for the dog lover in your life."

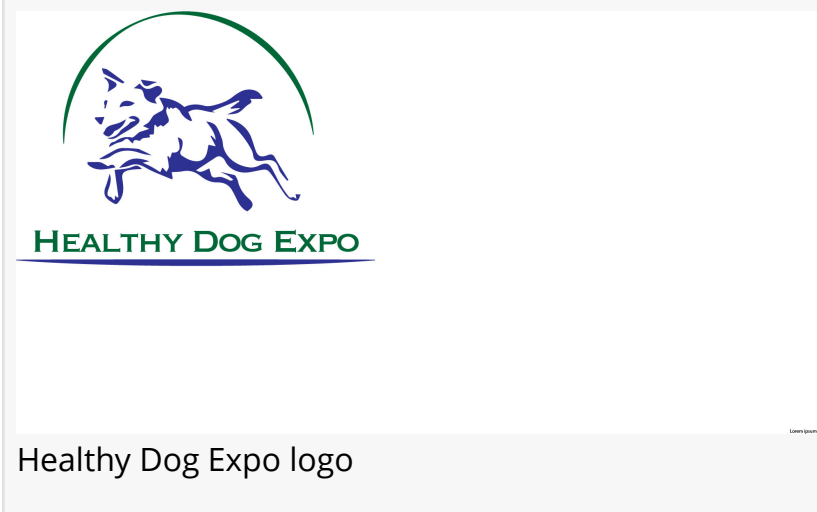

Now in its third year, the Healthy Dog Expo is the country's only holistic dog health and wellness event. This year's event will feature some of the biggest stars in the natural veterinary health care world, including Dr. Karen Becker, integrative oncologist Dr. Kendra Pope, Rodney Habib, consumer and safe pet food advocate Susan Thixton, pet food formulator and expert Steve Brown and international champion agility competitor and training expert Susan Garrett.

The event will be held the Desmond Hotel – Crowne Plaza Albany on March 19-20, 2022. Featured topics will range from natural diets to new views on cancer to the importance of the mind-body connection and its link to longevity, as well as a host of top-notch exhibitors featuring products that support the healthy dog lifestyle.
