

Michael Turner Named Vice President of Information Technology of RBO PrintLogistix

New V.P. has strong engineering and wholesale industry experience

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI, UNITED STATES, December 1, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- RBO PrintLogistix has tapped Michael Turner as their new Vice President of Information Technology.

The former Director of IT at DataSource, Inc. and Solutions Architect for Banner Solutions stepped into his new role as Vice President of Information Technology in March 2021.

Michael holds licenses and certifications in multiple areas, including interface design, network technology, site development, and numerous software applications.

Michael received a Bachelor of Science degree from Western Governors University in Software Development with a focus on Web Development. He is currently working toward a Master of Science degree in WGU's Cybersecurity and Information Assurance Program.

"It has been great working side by side with the team here at RBO to help bolster our technology and operations, not only to benefit our clients but also support robust company growth," says Michael. "The creative and technology team members have been doing an outstanding job servicing our clients so they can concentrate on their core business. I'm confident our client solutions will only strengthen as we roll out exciting new updates to our services."
