Demand for sodium percarbonate is expected to remain high in the U.S. owing to the presence of robust textile industry, along with growing trend of coin laundry services across the country. China is expected to follow suit, with increasing consumption of sodium percarbonate for water treatment.

"Growing demand for cleaning and disinfectant products driven by COVID-19-induced health concerns is expected to augment growth of the global sodium percarbonate market. Besides this, increasing adoption of sodium percarbonate for wastewater treatment is expected to bode well for the market over the forthcoming years," says a Fact.MR analyst.

Key Takeaways:

- In terms of type, the uncoated sodium percarbonate segment is expected to hold around 70% of the total market share by 2031.
- Applications of sodium percarbonate in the laundry segment are projected to remain high. Sales of sodium percarbonate in this segment are expected to create an incremental opportunity of US$ 115 Mn by 2031.
- Sales of sodium percarbonate in the U.S. are poised to grow at a 2.1% CAGR, creating an incremental opportunity of US$ 20 Mn by 2031.
- The China sodium percarbonate market is anticipated to expand at a 4.5% CAGR over the forecast period.

Growth Drivers:

- Expansion of the hospitality sector is expected to spur demand for sodium percarbonate for cleaning purposes over the assessment period.
- Increasing applications of uncoated sodium percarbonate as a bleaching agent in personal care products is expected to drive sales through 2031.
