A recent trend in the market is how the growing demand for 360-degree dual camera is increasing, as it can shoot or capture videos in all directions, giving a 360-degree view to viewers. A virtual reality headset is required to create a 360-degree view, and some equipment manufacturers are already in the market with their specially designed camera for recording 360-degree videos. Moreover, the rising demand for curved TVs is being driven by consumer preference for better viewing. A curved screen allows for a more immersive experience, as the curved shape allows the viewer to fill more of their field of view, and also provides a wider viewing angle.
