Healthcare CRM Market

Focus on customer engagement and retention for the healthcare sector and integration of artificial intelligence (AI) within CRM Tools drive the growth of the healthcare CRM market. However, lack of security about customer information, high initial installation cost of CRM Software, and issues related to short-range communication in healthcare CRM software restrain the market growth. On the other hand, adoption of bring your own device (BYOD) ecosystems and high operational efficiency of the CRM software present new opportunities in the coming years.

Impact of Covid-19 on Healthcare CRM Market-

During the Covid-19 pandemic, there has been a rapid surge in number of patients suffering from Covid-19 infection. To ensure proper management of patients along with building efficient healthcare system, there has been increase in demand for healthcare CRM systems. Owing to closure of a few public clinics to prevent cross-contamination, the deployment of healthcare CRM systems reduced. However, the demand recovered post-lockdown.
