The honorary doctoral is a lifetime achievement in the United States. "Alicia Carroll demonstrates this by sharing Tech Innovation Global Incorporated's capabilities, leadership and liaisons each month, activities, connected international chambers, 44 foreign and businesses, reaching out to industry and continuing to provide analysis at Tech Innovation Global Incorporated." Her venture, Tech Innovation Global, a USFCR Inc, is a woman-owned small business initiated in 2019 that includes services like Trident, Mental Health screening CPEs, and now has a service tool. The company has been performing supply capabilities analysis since the beginning of the pandemic while encouraging face mask recommendations and best prevention practices.

Alicia has received several awards and the prestigious Honorary Doctoral awards is a lifetime achievement. Recognitions include The 10 Most Inspiring Business Women Making a Difference, 2021, Influential Women in Tech, 2021, and several others.

Today, she stands firm with a mission to provide skills post-COVID-19, focus on additional safety, data analysis including face mask recommendations, inoculation and screening to flatten the curve, provide collaborative healthy habits and services to communities. Along this journey, consultants worked together in performance, and principles she discovered and executed including measurable achievements, respect, and processes for compliance; values, planning new technology, and improved business as she supports her church, which are very important standards.

Alicia Carroll and companies conduct research also will have three books that offer insights about the tech world based on experts. These include Technology by Tech Innovation Global Inc, Development & Illustrations for Kids, and Daily Life Business & Careers by Tech Daily Life at www.techinnovationglobalinc.com in 2022.
