COVID-19 is an infectious disease that originated in the Hubei province of the Wuhan city in China in late December. The highly contagious disease, caused by a virus, severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2), is transmitted from human to human. Since the outbreak in December 2019, the disease has spread to almost 213 countries around the globe with the World Health Organization declaring it a public health emergency on March 11, 2020.

The global outbreak of COVID-19 leads to an ongoing downturn in the healthcare market. Apart from communities, COVID-19 was equally disastrous for major world economies, especially the healthcare sector. Prominent stakeholders are continuing to adapt their strategies to the rapidly changing situation.

Top Impacting Factors:

☐Rise in number of cases of chronic diseases, surge in geriatric populations, increase in demand for fitness of mental and physical health, are the factors that drive the growth of the health coaching market.

In addition, increase in healthcare expenditure, availability of skilled professionals, and surge in awareness amongst people regarding nutrition and good health are some factors, which boost the market growth for health coaching.
