

ReEmployAbility Partners with State Fund to Provide Nonprofit Return-to-Work Program

BRANDON, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, December 6, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ReEmployAbility today announced a partnership with California's State Compensation Insurance Fund (State Fund) that pairs injured workers with nonprofits and helps employees get back to work when their employer is unable to offer temporary transitional duties.

The program, Transition2Work[®], keeps injured workers actively engaged with meaningful tasks, helps retain valuable employees, contains claims costs, helps expedite employee recovery so they can return to full duty, and allows the employer to give back to the community.

"We're excited to partner with State Fund to offer Transition2Work[®] to their clients," said Debra Livingston, CEO of ReEmployAbility. "Transition2Work[®] has benefited injured workers in California since 2010 and we're pleased to provide State Fund policyholders and their employees with innovative return-to-work options that also help local communities."
