

Strategic Radiology (SR) and Rad AI Finalize Enterprise-Wide Partnership Agreement at RSNA's 2021 National Meeting

Partnership provides SR practices with preferred access to Rad AI Omni, the only AI solution improving efficiency and quality while reducing radiologist burnout

BERKELEY, CA, UNITED STATES, December 7, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rad AI, the nation's fastest-growing radiologist-led AI company, and Strategic Radiology (SR), a coalition of 31 privately-owned, independent local radiology practices comprising 1300+ radiologists, have finalized an enterprise-wide agreement to provide SR's member practices with preferred access to Rad AI Omni. Strategic Radiology will use Rad AI Omni to further the coalition's mission to improve lives by creating superior radiology value through collaboration and innovation among privately owned, independent radiology practices.

“After thoroughly evaluating numerous radiology AI solutions via our collaborative we believe Rad AI Omni will provide the most impactful value proposition for our member groups,” said Dr. Scott Bundy, CEO and Chair of Strategic Radiology. “Rad AI Omni's automated impression generator extracted from the radiologist's dictated findings not only results in enhanced report quality and efficiency, but also helps alleviate fatigue by the end of a shift. We are excited for this partnership opportunity via the enterprise-wide agreement and look forward to accessing additional AI products and services currently under development at Rad AI.”

dictated by the radiologist, using the most advanced neural networks. It learns each radiologist's language preferences from all of their prior reports to create an impression that the radiologist can simply review and finalize. In addition, Rad AI improves report accuracy and consistency by answering the main clinical question, providing the latest consensus guideline recommendations for follow-up, and including significant incidental findings. The impression appears in the practice's voice recognition software as soon as the radiologist finishes dictating the findings, without any clicks, hotkeys or new windows.

"We couldn't be more thrilled about our partnership with this innovative coalition," said Josh Duncan, VP of Sales and Customer Success at Rad AI. "We are hearing from radiologists across the country who greatly appreciate the reduction in fatigue they experience when using Rad AI Omni. As it's becoming increasingly more challenging to recruit radiologists, practices are embracing Rad AI Omni not just for the efficiency and quality benefits, but also as a way to attract and retain talented radiologists. We believe more practices will follow Strategic Radiology's lead to make Rad AI Omni available to their radiologists."
