Exceptional Villas have put the truth back into travel by always providing guests with an independent, honest and accurate assessment of each villa. Their villa experts who specialize in designated markets personally visit each of their properties each year. They spend a large percentage of their time travelling, inspecting existing properties and scouting for new ones.

The team spend a lot of time understanding their clients' needs by asking them questions such as what does your dream vacation look like? They then weigh up the pros and cons of the various vacation rentals, allowing the guest to make an informed decision. This process ensures the guest ends up in the best villa for them. Vacation time is precious, and the company believes that this matching process is essential to ensure that every client has the vacation of their dreams.

Once the client has booked the property, the in-house complimentary concierge team take over. They are also highly skilled and book everything before their client's arrival. These bookings include VIP fast-tracking at airports, ground transportation, car rentals, restaurant reservations, grocery pre-stocking, chefs, massages, boat trips and excursions. In addition, each of the concierges is a market specialist, which ensures that they recommend and book only the best in their destinations.

This extremely professional and efficient complimentary pre-arrival concierge service is the reason why so many guests return to Exceptional Villas year after year. Once the clients arrive at their destinations, they will receive destination concierge service, which will organize all last-minute requests and bookings.

In addition to Exceptional Villas, the company also operates a dedicated luxury brand for the beautiful island of Barbados called Villas Barbados, and Dream Ireland, which specializes in a large selection of cottages and homes throughout the beautiful green isle of Ireland.

They are continually looking to improve and provide an even better level of service. With that in mind, Exceptional Villas are about to launch a concierge app for their clients. This app will provide comprehensive information on the destination as well as specific itinerary details.

Hawksbill Villa Turks and Caicos

The company's mission is to provide the best level of service of any villa rental company in the world. Much like Simon Sinek discusses in his book "Start with the Why", Exceptional Villas' "why" is to provide a level of service not found anywhere else in the world. They care and aim to be the best. Their core philosophies and values include honesty, dependability, integrity, reliability and a 100% commitment to service.
