

GBP Law Announces the Launch of SubscribeLaw™

HOUSTON, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, December 14, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- GBP Law is excited to announce the launch of SubscribeLaw™, a legal subscription service created to make legal advice more accessible for small business owners and solopreneurs. Girija Bhargava Patel, Founder and Owner of GBP Law, saw the deprivation of legal support for small businesses and creative minds due to costs, so she set out to create an affordable option. SubscribeLaw™ provides four different subscription options to choose from based on business needs and budget.

Girija started practicing law in 2006, but soon after realized she had other passions she wanted to explore. Girija took a 5-year hiatus from practicing law to pursue her interests in the creative community, and quickly fell in love with the supportive network. Her experiences during that time helped her to build an emotional connection with other creatives, and provide legal advice better than someone with no knowledge in the creative realm. As a result, she started practicing law again, but with a new twist, a specialty in serving creatives and entrepreneurs. GBP Law now offers a simple way to ensure all your business law questions are answered, and contracts are securely in place, through the subscription service.
