

EdCast & KLD Announce a Partnership For Providing Premium Content For Skills Development in the Middle East Region

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES,
December 16, 2021 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- EdCast & KLD announce their partnership for the Middle East, towards skills development within fast-growing corporations, as a key step forward for both companies to expand their footprint in the market.

Rich learning content provided by KLD, integrated with EdCast's Talent Experience Platform would allow learners to easily discover, share, recommend, and learn from KLD's content libraries across the organization.

Through this partnership, EdCast and KLD aim to bridge the widening knowledge & skill gap impacting both government institutions and private enterprises in the Middle East. The collective intent is to focus on next-generation learning experience and providing customized content (in Arabic & English) that will help build 'a smarter workforce', where learning is aligned with purpose, and delivers the greatest impact to both learners and organizations.

Speaking on the partnership, Mayank Pande – Vice President, Enterprise Solutions & Partnerships, Asia Pacific, Middle East and Africa at EdCast said: "We are excited about our partnership with KLD and are committed to working with clients in the region towards building tomorrow's workforce. Our aim is to provide learners easy access across devices, work applications and content choices to support their upskilling & reskilling efforts. This is why we are pleased to complement our offering with the innovative high-quality content of KLD".

Speaking on the partnership, Monaji Zamakhchary – Co-Founder and Chairman of KLD said: "We are very pleased to complement our localised content with the cutting edge offering of EdCast to impact the lives of the learners across the Middle East. Our social mission to upskill and re-skill individuals to enhance their productivity in a way that is conducive to economic prosperity across the region will only be reinforced with this exciting partnership”.
