

RoboMarkets received “Best Mobile Trading Platform” award from the Professional Trader Awards 2021

LIMASSOL, CYPRUS, December 16, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- RoboMarkets, a provider of investment services in Europe, announced the reception of the “Best Mobile Trading Platform” award from the Professional Trader Awards. The winners have been determined by the votes of the professional trader community.

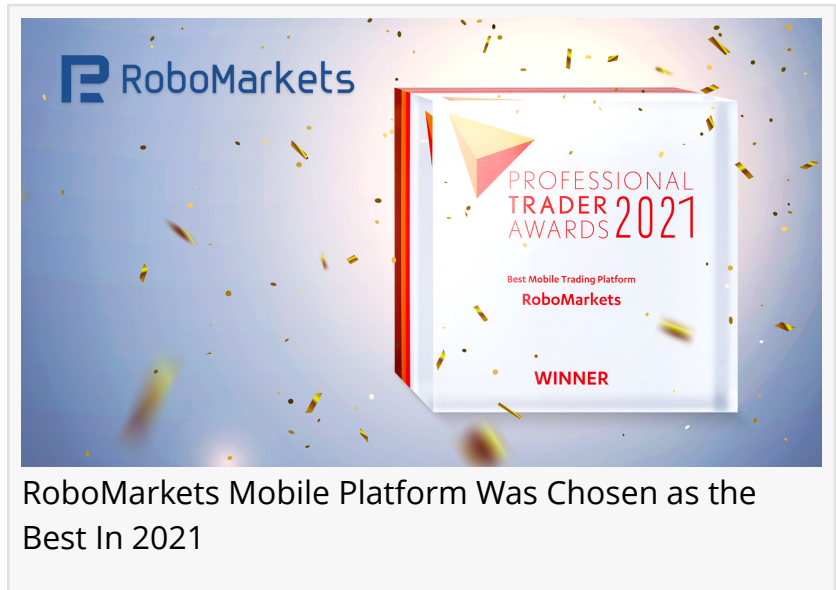

The award-winning companies were announced at the ceremonial reception that took place in London on 9 December 2021. RoboMarkets was honoured as the prize winner in the “Best Mobile Trading Platform” category for the second straight year. The award is presented to the broker that is dedicated to offering the best mobile product on the professional account market.

RoboMarkets was recognised for its mobile workstation, R StocksTrader — a powerful and user-friendly application. R StocksTrader is a universal application for trading from smartphones and tablet PCs. The R StocksTrader platform offers over 12,000 instruments for trading, including more than 3,000 stocks, indices, ETFs, and CFDs.

How are the winners of the Professional Trader Awards 2021 selected?

During the first stage, which lasts for four weeks, the organising committee receives applications from brokers that nominate themselves in the different chosen categories. In the next stage, the committee conducts a survey among the trader community, whereby traders with professional trading accounts are asked to vote for a particular broker from the nominees list. This describes how the trader community has selected the winners of the Professional Trader Awards also in 2021.

In 2021, the organising committee presented awards for 17 nominations. The “Professional
