The company's new employee monitoring software released in 2019 uses artificial intelligence (AI) technology to help organizations optimize their workforce management processes. With its automated features that include calendar reminders, time off requests, and more, the software helps employers keep track of their employees' schedules and manage HR tasks such as payroll processing or performance reviews in one place.

Let's have a look at what Vivek Awasthi, AVP at Workstatus, has to say-

"As the workplace dynamics continue to alter, particularly as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic's effects, businesses are turning to new methods to hire, retain and administer front-line staff." An essential component of a well-oiled human resources ecosystem is a workforce management platform."

What is Workstatus?

Workstatus, a new AI-enabled workforce management software, collects critical employee data. It is a flexible, extensible software designed to help organizations manage and optimize the productivity of their staff. It enables companies to forecast labor needs, handle staffing scheduling, keep track of time and attendance, and more.

The objective of the product is to help executives, managers, CEOs, CXOs, CTOs, etc., manage their teams while providing an enhanced level of customer service.

The company says it is the first of its kind and comes with on-screen widgets, real-time alerts, and notifications. You can get an instant screenshot of your team's activities without any complicated setup or training.

Workstatus is a comprehensive platform for managing time and attendance, including durable time collection devices, a cloud-based middleware instance, and a web-based management portal.

Top 5 Powerful features of Workstatus

Workstatus offers numerous features for efficient workforce management, but here we are giving you a glimpse of its top five features to save your time-

1. Geofencing

Geofencing helps find the staff and fleet locations geographically and gives you safety & security. Its geofence tracker sends alerts to managers or admin when a user enters or exits a geofence.

2. Employee Scheduling

It is an easy-to-use employee scheduling software that manages your employees' schedules and helps you find the staff availability according to your schedule. It provides you with different views like by employee, week, period, etc.

3. Selfie Validation

This feature allows employees to click a photo of themselves, and then they will submit their attendance. The system automatically matches that photo and records attendance.

4. Project Budgeting

Budgeting & Forecasting is a key task for any organization. Workstatus allows you to create budgets and forecasts. You can set your budget and then track the daily expenditures.

5. Attendance Management

Employees can easily manage their attendance through a single click feature. The info will be automatically populated in the company's calendar, and there is no requirement of setting up any other tools.
