Pharmaceutical Dyes Market Introduction

Pharmaceutical dyes are used by pharmaceutical manufacturers to add the desired color to different types of pharmaceutical products such as tablets, pills, capsules, ointments, or syrups. In capsules, pharmaceutical dyes are added to provide the identity of the pharmaceutical industry to the capsule.

In syrups, pharmaceutical dyes serve the purpose of providing an attractive appearance to the syrup and distinguishing the formulation of one syrup from that of the other. For instance, a pharmaceutical syrup that is orange flavored is pigmented with the help of orange or yellow pharmaceutical dyes.
