

Mendelson Consulting's NOOBEH Cloud Services Delivers Intuit QuickBooks 2022 on the Microsoft Cloud

NOOBEH provides businesses with the flexibility to run QuickBooks Desktop editions and add-ons on the Microsoft Azure cloud platform.

PEMBROKE PINES, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, December 21, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MENDELSON CONSULTING announced today the general availability of QuickBooks Desktop 2022 deployments on the Microsoft Azure Cloud by its NOOBEH Cloud Services division, providing businesses with fully-managed hosting with remote and mobile access to QuickBooks and other essential business applications.

Intuit QuickBooks is the standard for small business accounting, and the 2022 editions of QuickBooks desktop bring 64-bit processing power that works with more modern computers and operating systems. Mendelson Consulting was Intuit's first reseller for QuickBooks Enterprise and created NOOBEH Cloud Services to help customers improve the access to and infrastructure for their QuickBooks and other business software implementations. Deployments on NOOBEH's QuickBooks on Azure service ensures that businesses will have the modern architecture they need to support their QuickBooks financial and Office application software and staying current with security and compliance updates.

The Microsoft Azure cloud platform provides the industry leading physical security and privacy standards and the enterprise-grade cloud infrastructure that Mendelson and NOOBEH clients need to keep their systems operating securely and smoothly. The agility and scalability of the
