

Enteral Nutrition Market Growth in Future Scope 2021-2028 | Abbott Laboratories, Nestlé S.A., Danone S.A.

There are several types of enteral nutrition. It can be given through a nose tube or through the small intestine.

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, UNITED STATES, December 31, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- There are several types of enteral nutrition. It can be given through a nose tube or through the small intestine. There are also specialized formulas for people with certain medical conditions. These can include different sources of vitamins and minerals, as well as lipids, proteins, and carbohydrates. Depending on the patient's needs, the formula can also be individualized for specific nutrients. The following are some of the advantages of enteral nutrition.

Enteral Nutrition Market

Most patients are given a feeding tube placed at the bedside by a nurse or doctor. While this method may be convenient, the tubes can sometimes become blocked and need to be replaced. Some tubes can be discarded and replaced. Long-term solutions may involve placing the feeding tube directly through the abdominal wall. These can be placed in the small intestine for long-term use. Some types of enteral nutrition are adapted for patients with a history of severe digestive disorders or in those with other medical problems.

The global enteral nutrition market is estimated to be valued at US$ 2,635.9 million in 2020 and is expected to exhibit a CAGR of 5.8% over the forecast period (2020-2027).

Increasing prevalence of chronic disorders in infants is expected to propel growth of the global enteral nutrition market over the forecast period. For instance, according to the study, 'Estimating Nationwide Prevalence of Live Births with Down Syndrome and Their Medical Expenditures in Korea', published in Journal of Korean Medical Science in August 2019, the prevalence of live births with Down's syndrome was 5.03 per 10,000 births between 2007 and 2016.

Moreover, high prevalence of malnutrition is also expected to propel growth of the global enteral nutrition market over the forecast period. For instance, according to Feeding America 2015, around 2 million people suffer from starvation in the U.S, including 13 million children.

Government initiative to address malnutrition is expected to offer lucrative growth opportunities for players in the global enteral nutrition market.

For instance, in September 2017, the government of Tanzania launched the National Multi-sectoral Nutrition Action Plan (NMNAP) for 2016-2021 to address problems with malnutrition in the Tanzania. The Nutrition International's Technical Assistance Program partnered with the government of Tanzania on this project.

North America is expected to witness significant growth in the global enteral nutrition market, owing to high prevalence of cancer in the region. For instance, according to the study, 'Cancer statistics for adults aged 85 years and older, 2019', published in ACS CA: A Cancer Journal for Clinicians, in August 2019, in 2019, the projected number of cancer cases and deaths was 140,690 and 103,250 respectively, among adults aged 85 years and older in the U.S.
