New Year, New AI Tool That Can Write Articles, Email Campaigns, Books, Landing Pages & Even Code. Meet Satellite Blogger

A new startup, AI Exosphere (AIExo), announced their writing assistant could write product descriptions and ads in seconds.

ORLANDO, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, January 4, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A new startup, AI Exosphere (AIExo), announced their writing assistant could write product descriptions and ads in seconds.

Satellite Blogger BETA 2

Early this month, the company announced its launch of Satellite Blogger in early 2022. Satellite Blogger is a SAAS powered by AIExo's HailyAI that instantly generates high-quality content on any subject or niche.

New capabilities and user enhancements have been added as the company prepares to launch BETA.

The founder's Sal Peer, CEO, and Alex Athey, CTO, wanted to give users new opportunities to play and discover the capabilities of AIExo's bleeding-edge HailyAI inferences.

After much deliberation and RISE member feedback about AI Ethics, the duo came up with an easy way for users to still experience the new prompt-based skill system through "The Playground."

The Playground link enables users to generate content with Trained and BETA AI Writing Skills.

One of the major updates is Satellite Blogger's capability to generate product descriptions and ads.

AI product description generation automatically generates a product description based on keywords. This can be very convenient when you have many products and can't afford to write appealing descriptions for each product regularly.

Ad generation is about automatically generating advertising based on keywords. Writing a high volume of ads can be beneficial without sacrificing your original and genuine tone.

HailyAI is ideally suited for these tasks because it generates relevant and appealing descriptions based on raw information in many languages. Furthermore, this is pure original content, so there is no risk of duplicated content.

The company offers these skills to all users but states that they are in the early testing stages. Therefore, although BETA skills are available, they do not guarantee the generations.
