

Athlete Career Placement launches Virtual Career Event to keep up with demand

With significant interest by student athletes and employers, the Next Play Career Event creates meaningful connections to meet with career and hiring goals.

ELLICOTT CITY, MD, UNITED STATES, January 4, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Athlete Career Placement is leveraging its unique and intimate relationships with an enhanced virtual experience to create meaningful connections. This completely mobile-optimized experience uses cutting edge technology to create a feature-rich experience. ACP has made a significant investment in technology to enhance its growing relationships with current and former student athletes, athletic academic advisors, coaches and corporations.

Athlete Career Placement brings current and former student athletes and leading employers together in this one-of-a-kind Virtual Career Event.

"While we do our best to personally engage with every candidate, we have seen an increased need to support emerging graduates as well as hundreds of thousands of graduates over the past few years. It's been a unique couple of years, and we do everything we can to match the best candidates with the right role at the right company," says ACP's President, Jason Snider, "It's no different than in college athletics, the right person needs to be in the right position with the right team. When that happens, everyone wins."

The Next Play Career Event goes live on January 20, 2022 at 10am EST. The user interface and overall user experience was developed with accessibility in mind. It starts with an engaging lobby where automated queues and discoverable career booths match the desires of the candidates and opportunities with employers. These employers already understand and value the intangibles behind the candidates. Current and former student athletes that bring teamwork, coachability, work ethic, accountability and dedication. While pre-answered questions and one-to-on texting allows the participants to narrow focus, the experience is enhanced on-the-fly with seamless transition to video conversations without leaving the event. The technology continues to move the conversation forward in an efficient yet meaningful way.
