

American Vegetarian Association Certifies Swiss Diamond Cookware

The American Vegetarian Association tested and approved for certification multiple pieces of cookware offered by Swiss Diamond.

CHARLOTTE, NC, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, January 10, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Swiss Diamond is honored to announce that the American Vegetarian Association has given their approval on all Swiss Diamond cookware. They vetted multiple pieces from our XD, HD Classic, DLX and Hard Anodized cookware lines.

Executive Director, Len Torine marked the Swiss Diamond XD Casserole with lid as "one of the most perfect, versatile, all-purpose multitaskers I've ever used!" Testing this pan Torine made a Frittata, stating "'I didn't want to let this casserole off the hook easy, 'cause I figured it could take whatever I could dish out...and it sure did that! like to make 'Frittatas' because they're healthy, delicious, and you can use leftovers...The Frittata heated evenly, cut perfectly with no egg sticking to the bottom or sides of the pan, and made very clean wedge cuts, easy to remove. The two strong handles helped make the trip to the table quite securely."

The AVA commended Swiss Diamond on its high quality, diamond reinforced nonstick coating used for the Swiss Diamond XD and HD Classic cookware lines. The nonstick cooking capabilities allow home cooks to create healthier meals for themselves and their families because no oil is needed during the cooking process! Swiss Diamond is excited to announce its newest Recipe series, partnering with the AVA launching in early 2022. Customers and website visitors can be on the lookout for healthy, well seasoned, easy recipes recommended and written by top AVA contributors around the world.

One of the most perfect,
versatile, all-purpose
multitaskers I've ever used!"
