

Novigo and Sleek Technologies Partner to Provide Advanced Freight Procurement Solutions

Novigo & Sleek Technologies to offer customers AI-powered freight procurement technology, 100% data transparency, & consulting to empower on-time delivery.

SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, January 11, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Novigo, a global leader in SAP Supply Chain Management Application Consulting Services, announced its partnership with Sleek Technologies, the leader in freight procurement automation. Novigo, an SAP Gold partner has leveraged digital transformations to uncover supply chain improvement opportunities that reduce risk while increasing visibility and agility. The collaboration between Sleek Technologies and Novigo will advance freight procurement, a core supply chain process, by replacing antiquated processes and massive data gaps with AI-powered automation technology and 100% data transparency.

Mahir Anwar, VP, Novigo

"We're excited to collaborate with Novigo, global leaders in supply chain execution consulting," said Mike Nervick, CEO of Sleek Technologies. "Our automation software and real-time executive dashboards fit perfectly into Novigo's mission to power transformation and uncover improvement opportunities, especially cost reduction opportunities that mitigate double-digit rising truckload cost, within the supply chain."

Through Sleek Technologies Solutions Suite, customers can access highly configurable intelligent freight procurement SaaS, called OTS, which uses AI to dynamically source compliant, asset-based carriers. Advanced freight procurement analytics, called TL360, provides four customizable executive dashboards that fill in data gaps so shippers can make informed, data-driven decisions to increase resilience, sustainability and provide cost reduction opportunities.

"Novigo partnered with Sleek Technologies to offer customers intelligent automation technology and real-time, actionable freight procurement data," said Mahir Anwar, VP at Novigo. "With today's supply chain challenges, process automation and complete truckload visibility, which provides actionable insights, will be key to mitigating rising truckload cost and late deliveries."

After a difficult 2021, many shippers have made transformation a priority to help overcome unprecedented supply chain challenges. Shippers will invest in technology that turns static processes into automated ones, partner with solutions that provide 100% data transparency to replace hunches with educated data-driven decisions, and expert consulting to push transformation forward in an effective, efficient manner that has little disruption to current business.
