STARRS Collaboration:

The Center for Military Readiness

STARRS ally organization, the Center for Military Readiness (CMR), founded by Elaine Donnelly in 1993, led the fight to eliminate dangerous and ill-conceived plans to register women for Selective Service draft registration, which were expected to pass in the FY 2022 National Defense Authorization Act. The House approved the NDAA last September, but the Senate stripped, “Draft Our Daughters” and other bad provisions before final passage of the NDAA, largely due to the leadership of CMR who fought against dangerous proposed policies that would have severely damaged readiness of our military.

The Center for Military Readiness is an independent, non-partisan, public policy organization with a unique mission: reporting on and analyzing military/social issues. CMR promotes high standards and sound priorities in the making of military personnel policies and takes the lead in defending elements of military culture that are essential for morale and readiness in the All-Volunteer Force. Find out more at Center for Military Readiness. Elaine's article reporting on successes with the 2022 NDAA is posted at The Federalist.

Flag Officers 4 America

Hundreds of retired Generals and Admirals have signed Open Letters to support the betterment of our military and to strengthen its fidelity to the Constitution.

From their website: "We are retired military leaders who pledged to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic. Although retired from active service, each of us feels bound by that oath to do what we can, in our capacity today, to protect our nation from the threats to her freedom."
