Supreme Security is a leader in indoor home camera systems

While Calgary is a very safe city, violent crime in Calgary is on the rise. From 2019 to 2020, gun violence increased over 50%. Statistics Canada has reported, "Social isolation, reduced income and job loss were amplified amidst the pandemic, potentially leading to increased tension in the home and escalations of violence." With over 35 years of servicing Calgary's home security needs, Supreme Security is constantly looking for the best product offerings for its current and future clients. With the addition of these two new security brands, Supreme Security hopes to position itself as the number one choice in Calgary for home and commercial security.
