

White Cement Market Growth Is Fueled By Increasing Residential Construction Projects

The Business Research Company's White Cement Global Market Report 2022 – Market Size, Trends, And Global Forecast 2022-2026

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, January 11, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rising residential construction projects are contributing to the growth of the white cement market. According to the Global Construction 2030 report published by Oxford Economics, the volume of construction output will be growing by nearly 85% to $15.5 trillion worldwide by 2030, three countries China, the US, and India are leading the way. White Portland cement is mixed with white aggregates to make white concrete, which is utilized for luxurious construction projects and decorative work. Thus, the increasing residential construction activity is expected to increase demand for white cement. For instance, according to the National House Building Council (NHBC), roughly 1.4 million new homes are expected to be built in the UK by 2029. Therefore, the rising residential construction projects are expected to fuel the growth of the white cement market going forward.

The global white cement market size is expected to grow from $5.87 billion in 2021 to $6.43 billion in 2022 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 9.5%. The market growth is mainly due to the companies rearranging their operations and recovering from the COVID-19 impact, which had earlier led to restrictive containment measures involving social distancing, remote working, and the closure of commercial activities that resulted in operational challenges. The white cement market is expected to reach $7.98 billion in 2026 at a CAGR of 5.6%.

Global white cement market trends include technological advancement, which is gaining popularity in the market. Companies in the white cement market are increasingly focusing on new technologies such as carbon capture, utilization, and storage (CCUS) for more efficient and sustainable cement forms. For instance, in June 2021, Carbicrete, a Canada-based carbon removal technology company is using captured carbon dioxide for accelerating the curing process of concrete while strengthening and sequestering the gas. The technology cuts out the need for calcium-based cement, a key ingredient in traditional concrete, which is a significant contributor to global CO2 emissions.
