Be it any residential property or commercial establishment, there is a process for maintaining the pest barrier on the site. Pests are really powerful small organisms, thus keeping a location pest-free is impossible. East Coast Pest control & Fertilization, Inc. and its highly trained and expert crew can better grasp how to serve a property after an initial assessment. The initial treatment begins after the inspection. If additional services are required throughout the monthly membership period, following up on the initial inspection on a monthly or quarterly basis will be continued.

Bed bugs are one of the most common pests and bugs found in Fort Lauderdale. Then there are termites. Termites infest a lot of property in Fort Lauderdale and the surrounding area. These pests are capable of completely destroying a home in its current state. Finally, there are the vexing red ants. Red ant bites are painful and can leave markings for up to two weeks and the ache and itching lasting for days. Mosquitoes are a common concern too. These blood-sucking bugs are difficult to eradicate. Effective pest management from East Coast Pest Control & Fertilization, Inc can help communities with all their pest-related worries in Fort Lauderdale. East Coast Pest Control & Fertilization, Inc. has been serving the citizens and business owners of Port Lauderdale with monthly pest control, termite inspection and treatment, rat removal, and pest control.
