

Health Insurance in Irving continues to see spike in enrollment numbers for 2022

An Irving health insurance agent, says the latest numbers from CMS is more proof that Americans are getting the affordable healthcare they need.

IRVING, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, January 11, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Health Insurance in Irving continues to see significant increases in the number of enrollments as Americans continue to sign up heading into another new year. According to recent statistics from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid

If you remember, open enrollment began November 1 — with the deadline for the January 1 effective date being December 15. Enrollments have soared ever since, including a spike in individuals and families who now have Irving health insurance. The good news is that individuals who haven't joined up yet have until January 15 to make their selection. Coverage will begin on February 1 if they do so. According to various studies, rates will be cheaper in the future, with half of ACA participants qualifying for a Silver level plan that costs $10 or less per month. For millions of low- and middle-income families, this might be a significant opportunity.

Rick Thornton, an Irving health insurance agent, says this is a golden opportunity for so many Americans. According to a statement on the White House website, a family of four with an annual household income of $90,000 may see their monthly premium drop by $200 each month. The Black community is expected to see the biggest benefit, largely because they were previously unable to afford it thanks to their income status, inability to access transportation, or live in an area where there is limited food. All of this is quickly changing, however, just as the bill was intended to do.
