

DRAGONFORCE QUICK RESPONSE ORGANIZES CHAOS IN SECONDS

DragonForce Quick Response expedites the assignment process for first responders or volunteers from any organization by using standard QR Codes and smartphones

BLUE BELL, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, January 13, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Transform the chaos of a large-scale incident into an orderly, structured response in seconds with DragonForce Quick Response. The new DragonForce Quick Response feature expedites the onboarding process through the distribution of standard QR-code cards. First responders or volunteers from any organization simply scan the QRcode with their Android or IOS device to download and install the DragonForce app and enter their auto-login credentials. In seconds they are added to the secure DragonForce team collaboration environment with access to a complete set of command and control tools that includes: personnel tracking, text messaging and file sharing, digital forms, tactical whiteboarding, streaming video and Push-to-Talk (PTT) audio.

"We are very excited about DragonForce Quick Response" remarked Drakontas CEO James Sim "The best technology in the world is useless, unless you can deploy it quickly and easily to the people who need it in a crisis situation. DragonForce Quick Response eliminates deployment friction and turns anyone with a smartphone into an effective member of the response team in seconds, equipping them with secure, powerful, and easy to use communication and collaboration tools."

DragonForce Quick Response solves the interoperability challenge of getting responders from disparate agencies to eliminate the silos of data and communications while sharing a true common operating picture platform quickly, easily and securely. Contact Drakontas to schedule a live, interactive demo of this new capability for your organization. Request A Demo.
