PHILADELPHIA, UNITED STATES, January 13, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fatpos Global has released a report titled "Commodity Chemicals Market –Global Analysis of Market Size, Share & Trends for 2019 – 2020 and Forecasts to 2030" which is anticipated to reach USD 1327.37 billion by 2030. According to a study by Fatpos Global, the market is anticipated to portray a CAGR of 6.60% between 2020 and 2030. According to the report, the Commodity Chemicals Market is led by large players with diversified portfolios and a sophisticated and modern management approach. Growing awareness and acceptance of healthy lifestyles among consumers have increased the demand for pharmaceutical and nutraceutical products. The consumer focus is on personal care and this is likely to increase the demand for cosmetic and personal care products for end-use. Important factors have been observed driving the Commodity Chemicals Market.

"The increasing economic growth and the gross domestic product (GDP) of the industrialized and developing countries worldwide is driving the overall market for basic chemicals. The price is the main influencing factor since the product differentiation in these basic chemicals is very low. In addition, the easy availability and lower cost of base chemicals compared to specialty chemicals support market growth worldwide", said a lead analyst at Fatpos Global.
