The global submersible pump was valued at US$ 9,172.5 Mn in 2019 and is forecast to reach a value of US$ 15603.2 Mn by 2027 at a CAGR of 6.10% between 2020 and 2027.

A submersible pump is a device that has a hermetically sealed motor close to the pump body. The entire assembly is submerged into the water or fluid to be pumped. Submersible pumps prevent pump cavitation and challenges associated with elevation difference between fluid surface and pump. Open well submersible pumps are specially designed for various applications, especially for underwater applications as it does not require priming and foot valve. These pumps are easy to install and can withstand voltage variation of the range 350 – 440 volts. These pumps are designed to prevent motor burning and overloading.
