“We look forward to partnering with iNailz,” said Lexann McPhoy, Managing Director of NSI Caricom. “Our unique solution allows in country distributors to access a full range of products that would help nail techs avoid the issues associated with brand mixing.”

“I am excited to be local distributor of the NSI brand. I have tried the product as a nail technician, and salon owner. I love that the acrylic system self levels. The acrylic system has a smooth application and is easy to file. The gel system is perfect, not too thick, not too thin. My favorite product is the Glaze N Go top coat, when applied to your client's nail, still shines weeks later when they return. I am excited because I know it is a good product. In fact, every Caribbean nail tech should have NSI professional products on their shelf," said Karen Andrew.
