The pandemic affected countless businesses and creatives in unimaginable ways, but through perseverance, her team has made it through with vitality and vision. Monica's team is working hard on 2022 with excitement! Monica is elevating her brand with a fresh perspective on newness. Modern uniqueness is in the new Monica Leigh collection that is inspired by natural beauty and sublime light with a penchant for metallic tones. More than ever, she is ready to showcase her creative brilliance once again with her new collection that ties together everything that represents her brand. Continuously inspired by metallics and earthy and city-like elements, she is drawing inspiration from the auras that surround the two generations that follow her own: Millennials and Gen Z. "I am continuously inspired by all of the things that make up who I am as a brand but now I am looking forward to mixing it with the organic emotion of feeling free-spirited."

Embracing the "newness" that has inspired her 2022 collection, Monica celebrates the freedom and extreme courage that she hopes to fully embody this year. "I am doing things that are taking a lot more stamina and energy, but I am ready to be uncomfortable and push for things like I haven't before," she says. "I like to think of myself as a badass person that just knocks down doors, but this year is a little different, I have to put the vibrato aside, be uncomfortable, and make things happen from a genuine place of confidence."

With the vision that Monica has for the future of her collection, it is only a matter of time before she elevates herself to an even higher level. The idea of embracing newness and celebrating the free spirit all while staying true to her ethically driven ways, there is no doubt Monica Leigh is the future of fashion.
