Farahi Law partnered with two amazing organizations, School on Wheels and People Assisting The Homeless, to help children continue their education.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, March 2, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- At Farahi Law Firm, we firmly believe that a child's education is the building block of our society and our country. The youth deserve to have access to high-quality education and services that will allow them to grow and seize future opportunities for themselves, their families, and their communities.

Farahi Law Firm Donates Laptops to Children

We truly believe that young people hold the key to a bright future. It is crucial that we all participate in making real changes in the living conditions of our youth. We are honored to help this way.”

Atty. Justin Farahi

That is why last year, for Christmas, Farahi Law partnered with two amazing organizations, School on Wheels and People Assisting The Homeless (PATH), in giving back to the underserved community of Los Angeles' homeless families as part of our "You Care, We Care Too" program.

With the help of our partner NGOs, the firm was able to donate brand-new laptops for children to continue their education amid the pandemic.

Attorney Justin Farahi has stated: “We are VERY happy to contribute to children's education programs in California.

We truly believe that our young ones hold the key to a better and brighter future for us all. With that said, it is crucial that we all participate in making a real change in the living conditions of our youth, and we are honored to help this way.”

Farahi Law is committed to uplifting the lives of all Californians in need. The "You Care, We Care Too" program was established for this very reason.

Through this program, the Los Angeles accident attorney has participated shoulder-to-shoulder in Community Outreach initiatives along with Non-Governmental Organizations and other parties representing the underserved sectors.

Farahi Law has partnered with the Honduran Consulate for computer giveaways and with All Peoples Community Center by donating toys and gift cards, reading to children at Compton, tutoring kids via I'm a Movement, Not a Monument, and supporting veterans at Veteran Affairs.

Again, special thanks to School on Wheels and People Assisting The Homeless (PATH) for letting us bring happiness to families and children in need! We are proud of this partnership and look forward to many more future initiatives.

People Assisting the Homeless (PATH)

PATH started with a letter written by Claire and Rev. Charles Orr, calling for the community to address the ever-increasing issue of homelessness. In response, on the night of December 8, 1983, 60 people gathered together to figure out how to help people who were experiencing homelessness in their neighborhoods. On that night, PATH was born.

PATH's mission is to end homelessness for individuals, families, and communities. PATH envisions a world where every person has a home. Their values include creative collaborations, strategic leadership, empowerment for all, and passionate commitment.
