Addison Solutions Academy provides strategic planning training to leaders and business professionals

MARYLAND, UNITED STATES, October 3, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Addison Solutions Academy, known for providing world-class corporate training, is proud to announce the launch of its highly regarded Strategic Planning workshop. This much-anticipated workshop addresses key business concerns that affect strategic planning: "Do you work for a company where one of your responsibilities assists in strategic planning? Do you require a better understanding of strategic planning to communicate your company's strategic plan to your employees?" Addison Solutions Academy has designed training to address these and other concerns while emphasizing communication and understanding the concept of organizational values, vision, and mission.

Workshop attendees will learn how to identify an organization's values, define its vision, produce a mission statement that explains its purpose, and conduct in-depth SWOT analyses thanks to Addison Solutions Academy's creative approach. Participants will also learn how to establish a strategic plan, including a strategy map and balanced scorecard, and execute, evaluate, and review a company's strategic plan. These and other goals will be pursued to understand that effective communication is critical to achieving strategic initiatives.

Furthermore, the Strategic Planning workshop explores several important subjects, including creating a vision, setting goals, assigning roles, responsibilities, and accountability, gaining
