

Konabos Partner, Akshay Sura, Named Kentico Kontent MVP

One of only Six in World with Designation

TEMECULA, CA, USA, January 18, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- We are proud to announce that Akshay Sura, Partner at Konabos, has been named a Kentico Kontent MVP. This exclusive designation – Akshay is one of only six current MVPs – recognizes individuals who have been active members of the Kentico Kontent community over the past 12 months. MVPs are engaged community advocates who share knowledge and promote Jamstack, Headless CMS, and API-centered solutions.

“I am humbly honored to be selected as a Kentico Kontent MVP. In the marketplace shift towards Jamstack and headless CMS, Kontent by Kentico has been a favorite platform. Being an evangelist for this technology has been very natural, and the fact that the core of Konabos’ mission is community, makes this recognition extra special!” -Akshay Sura, Partner

I'm extremely pleased to welcome Akshay Sura to our MVP Program. Our partnership with Konabos has been working great for several years to the satisfaction of both us at Kontent and our joint customers”

Vojtech Boril, VP Growth & Marketing at Kontent by Kentico

“I'm extremely pleased to welcome Akshay Sura to our MVP Program. Our partnership with Konabos has been working great for several years to the satisfaction of both us at Kontent and our joint customers. Akshay and his team have put a lot of effort into becoming true Kontent advocates in North America. I can only recommend their expertise when it comes to large scale implementations of headless CMS and other API services. Akshay's many years of experience with both monolith and headless Enterprise CMSs will benefit the entire Kontent community!” - Vojtech
