Which Type of Egg Products is High On-Demand Globally?

Refrigerated liquid eggs are a cost-effective food source that are high in protein and other critical components, and they are predicted to play a big role in growing egg consumption rates around the world.

The refrigerated liquid eggs market is projected to expand at a CAGR of around 5.9%, topping a valuation of US$ 7 Bn by 2031.

Demand for refrigerated liquid eggs products is high as they simplify the preparation of egg-based dishes while also ensure consistency in measurement and safety & quality. Shelling eggs is not required in restaurants or bakeries. Because there is no waste due to breakage, production expenses are reduced.

Vendors of refrigerated liquid egg products frequently supply premeasured containers to make adding liquid eggs into dishes even easier. Cage-free refrigerated liquid egg products are nutritionally identical to traditional liquid egg products. However, rising consumer awareness regarding animal welfare and its implications on food safety is driving demand for free-range liquid eggs.

Moreover, demand for dried eggs and demand for frozen eggs is projected to rise at CAGRs of 8.2% and 7.3%, respectively. Manufacturers of ice cream & frozen desserts demand dried and frozen eggs, owing to the trend of convenience and instant food.

Will Demand for Egg Products Remain High in the Food Processing Industry?

Manufacturers are likely to employ new equipment to meet demand for healthy functional meals and beverages, as demand for healthy food and functional food grows as well as diverse application of eggs is being witnessed in the eggs market. Various opportunities exist for companies in food processing, retail, and foodservice value chains to gain access to or improve their penetration of equipment goods, either organically or through acquisitions.

The food processing industry is projected to expand at a CAGR of 5.6%, holding 46.4% of market share in 2021. Expected growth is further projected to boost the supply and consumption of egg products.

Furthermore, application of egg products in retails/households has urged after the recent pandemic, where people were forced to stay indoors. Also, the work from home culture aided demand for egg products in retails/households.
