INDIA, January 21, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- UniFarm, a leading group farming staking protocol announced the launch of Cohort 34 which will go live on Ethereum (ETH) featuring leading DeFi projects including Bitxmi ($BXMI), Plethori ($PLE), BollyCoin ($BOLLY), and UniFarm ($UFARM) - latter being the project itself.

UniFarm, a decentralized farming pool of DeFi's most innovative projects allows users to farm numerous project tokens on an easy-to-use interface. Unlike traditional farming, UniFarm offers diversification to its token holders by allowing multiple token farming options hence the motto "Stake One, Farm More". This plays a vital role in reducing volatility and potential risks faced during farming, hence enhancing the overall return to the user's crypto portfolio. This also means a higher reward gain for stakers and investors. So far, UniFarm has a Total Value Locked of nearly $150 Million in the past 1 year.

2022 started on high for us as we expanded our presence to Avalanche. We plan to integrate our platform with more smart chains in the coming quarters and reach a TVL of nearly $1 billion by 2022.”

Mohit Madan, CEO & Founder, UniFarm

As a user, while farming at UniFarm, one can achieve an APY of up to 250% while retaining the custodianship of their tokens. Users also have complete control of personal token activity; hence tokens are not subjected to market exposure. One can unstake their tokens once the farm is over and attain maximum profit. The project has completed 33 cohorts till now, with over 100+ projects participating in pools across 4 smart chains: Ethereum, Binance, Polygon, and Avalanche.

Introducing UniFarm Cohort 34

UniFarm Cohort 34 will span for 90 days with a payout APY of 36% to 250%, depending on how long one stays staked within the cohort. The total prize pool for this cohort is $100,000, with $25,000 going to each project. Tokens worth $250k can be staked per project.
