CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, January 21, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A new website, mmmboards.com, shares information on the trendy serving method of Charcuterie.

Charcuterie boards allow party hosts to display serve-yourself foods; typically meat, cheeses, crackers, nuts, spreads, fruits and vegetables, in a beautiful way. This entertainment trend can be seen all over Pinterest and Instagram because of its beauty, but also because it's a relatively simple way to put a striking selection of foods together to serve guests.

The site aims to continually offer new ideas for charcuterie board building, must-have charcuterie accessories, historical information, and tips for boards to meet food sensitivity requirements. One of the contributors is gluten and dairy free, and has shared insights including her favorite gluten free crackers.

Helpful gift guides are included on the site as well, offering suggestions for charcuterie-based gifts for different types of personalities and styles. Charcuterie boards have become a popular gift for housewarmings, wedding showers and weddings. One article on the site includes a guide to find the best personalized charcuterie board on Amazon.
