About Odinalake

Odinalake is a US-Based ergonomic chairs manufacturing company founded by King, who had to work from home since 2020 after COVID-19. Because of his busy work schedule, King began to experience physical pain, and he contacted his friend Jim relating his plan to design a comfortable chair for his long hours of work. After comparing several chairs, King found that they were not very effective, and he called his uncle for help. His uncle was excited about his concept and invited German designer Justus Kolberg to collaborate on the chair's design and development.

Today, King's collaboration with Justus Kolberg has led to the development and manufacturing of the 643, 625, and 633 ergonomic chair designs appropriate for home and office commercial needs. For inquiries, please visit www.odinalake.com/pages/about-us.
