Aviation Week Network's MRO Latin America (#MROLA) will return LIVE, February 9-10 in Mexico City. The two-day exhibitor showcase, and conference will be held at the Hilton Mexico City Reforma and will attract more than 325 registered attendees.

MRO Latin America is the premier event in this region for the maintenance, repair and overhaul (MRO) industry, designed for industry thought leaders and decision makers. The event will start with a reception on February 8 and will include engaging networking opportunities throughout the two days including a "two-minute mixer," giving attendees the chance to build new relationships or reconnect with established contacts in the industry.

Industry experts will lead drill-down discussions, sessions, workshops, and business development opportunities in an intimate setting with attendees focused on growing their organizations in South America, Central America, Mexico and the Caribbean. More than 80% of the attendees are involved in the acquisition cycle as buyers and influencers.

The MRO Latin America Showcase, will enable attendees to shop solution providers showcasing tools, technology and service. The Showcase is only open to registered attendees. Visit here to register.

The event's premium sponsor is Embraer with AerSale, Boeing, PartsBase, StandardAero, and Wencor Group serving as event sponsors.

“Our attendees and sponsors are so pleased to return to an in-person event in Latin America,” said Lydia Janow, Sr. Vice President of Events for Aviation Week Network. “We are attracting professionals/buyers from the area to not only to network after a year’s absence, but also designing an educational program that will enhance knowledge, best practices and the future outlook, as this is a great opportunity for attendees to reconnect.”
