At the intersection of health care and technology, a key differentiator of Foresight is their all-inclusive team of psychiatrists, therapists, neuropsychologists, nutritionists, software engineers, data scientists, and researchers, all with the shared mission to revolutionize mental health care using modern technology. This cutting-edge approach enables Foresight's providers to deliver highly personalized, data-backed treatment plans for their members.

Foresight's founders launched their innovative organization with a vision of integrating mental health care treatment with technology to make people happier and healthier. “We're thrilled to open offices throughout Illinois to provide comprehensive mental health treatment for those in need. We founded Foresight to increase access to mental health care for everyone, and this remains our organization's primary goal," said co-founder Matthew Milford. Adds co-founder Douglas Hapeman, "We're focused on elevating both the patient and the provider experiences at Foresight. Our team is developing technology that helps us reimagine mental health care by leveraging data to empower providers to offer our members a higher level of care."

The sought-after office openings in Illinois are a big milestone for Foresight. The new offices will also provide patients throughout the state with the care they need. According to a recent study, The Cost of Mental Illness: Illinois Facts and Figures, 10.8% of adults report serious psychological distress, while 27.3% indicated an unmet need of mental health treatment. In addition, the study found that 41.3% of these people did not receive mental health treatment, because they could not afford it. Moreover, a 2015 Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) study found that:

- 8.7% of all adults per year had serious thoughts of suicide within the year prior
- 8.7% of all adults had serious mental illness
- Close to 3.21% of adults in Illinois live with serious mental health conditions such as schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, and major depression.
- Only 44.6% of adults with mental illness in Illinois receive any form of treatment from either the public system or private providers. The remaining 55.4% received no mental health treatment.
- 6.2% of all individuals aged 2 or older were dependent on or abused alcohol

Per Mental Health America, statistics show that Illinois is ranked 11 out of the 50 states and Washington D.C. for providing access to mental health services.
