CloudLIMS Publishes a Complimentary eBook on COVID-19 Testing Lab Compliance

CloudLIMS publishes a complimentary eBook on COVID-19 testing lab compliance to boost the preparedness of lab directors & quality managers of COVID-19 labs.

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE, UNITED STATES, January 25, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CloudLIMS, a leading provider of laboratory informatics, today published a free, open-access eBook on regulatory compliance for COVID-19 testing laboratories across the globe. With the emergence of the highly transmissible Omicron variant of the coronavirus and the rapid surge of COVID-19 positive cases in several countries, COVID-19 testing laboratories need to accelerate testing while meeting regulatory requirements to contain the spread of the coronavirus.

> This eBook serves as a ready reference for COVID-19 diagnostic laboratories to seamlessly navigate their way through regulatory challenges. Anyone can download this online book as a PDF for free,"
> said Arun Apte, CEO at CloudLIMS

The eBook provides in-depth guidance on regulatory compliance for startup and established COVID-19 testing laboratories, explains the pitfalls of non-compliance, and gives directions on how laboratories can meet compliance with ease. This free resource is intended to guide laboratory directors, owners, technicians, staff, and quality managers of COVID-19 diagnostic laboratories and boost their preparedness in these unprecedented times with carefully researched content that is fully cited.

What is included in the eBook:
