The Nigerian Federal Ministry of Power and Bauchi State Ministry of Power Science and Technology will work with Cenfura to identify and close agreements with communities and stakeholders, as well as facilitate deployment and communications.

In addition to this, they will also work with Cenfura Nigeria Ltd to access the Central Bank of Nigeria's Intervention Fund for renewable Energy deployment as well as other relevant funds to aid the deployment of the solar home system solution in Nigeria.

Dr Albert Okorogu, CEO of Cenfura Nigeria Ltd commented: "This agreement is an excellent step forward to a long term collaboration with the Nigerian Federal Ministry of Power and the Bauchi State Ministry of Power, Science and Technology. We look forward to a successful and mutually beneficial partnership."

Cenfura Nigeria's role in the agreement is to design, fund, and implement the solution as well as develop the right business model to make the project a success. In addition, Cenfura Nigeria will work closely with the Nigerian Federal Ministry of Power to communicate relevant statistics and information regarding the development, including employment creation, power production, savings, and emission reductions.

Pasi Nieminen, Founder and Chairman of Cenfura Nigeria Ltd said, "We are extremely proud to be working in such an important capacity to support the Nigerian people. Cenfura's technical capabilities are being put to excellent use and we are excited to work with both the Nigerian Government and Bauchi State."

About Cenfura
