

Canadian healer, Nancy Penttila, launches a new four day master class series designed to support health and wellness

People are living in a dis-eased realm where love is at an all time low on our planet. This cannot continue and it is time to go within and to heal.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, January 30, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Science has shown that fear weakens and lowers a person's immune system. With the global health crisis, one of the quickest ways to establish a new baseline for health is identifying old patterns, and shifting to new ones.

If a person is suppressing their truth, emotions, expressions or people pleasing in any way, they will experience dysfunction, dis-ease within their body and mind.

This "Feed Your Soul, Smash Your Scale" master class offers ways to experience the power of habits that enhance a person's life-force energy. It provides tools to help a person get to the root of self-sabotage or self-abandonment.

Inner Miracles has been serving in the wellness industry for over two decades and will be sharing what has worked with several thousands of their clients globally.

This free master class will offer a high-vibe, soul nourishing experience!

She used to think being an empath was a curse, but now she sees it as such a blessing and a gift, for it is how she is able to sense, feel and truly "see" the beautiful beings she connects with and serves.

If you want to awaken all of humanity, then awaken yourself...Truly the greatest gift you have to give is that of your own self-transformation.”
