The rising demand for pig meat across various countries, such as China, Vietnam, the Philippines, Thailand, etc., is primarily driving the growth of the Asia Pacific swine feed market. Furthermore, numerous regional manufacturers are introducing vitamin supplements and several other nutrients in the swine feed to enhance the quality and texture of the pork. Additionally, the growing awareness towards various nutritional benefits of swine feed has resulted in the increasing number of swine feed mills across the Asia Pacific region. In line with this, numerous pig farmers are shifting from traditional swine feed towards premium and functional variants that aid in boosting the immunity of pigs against enzootic diseases. Apart from this, the elevating demand for organic pig meat is anticipated to further propel the market for swine feed in the Asia Pacific region over the forecasted period. Looking forward, the Asia

Pacific swine feed market is expected to grow at a steady rate during the forecast period (2021-2026).
