About

My January dinner was extra special because it was with my grandma. Grammy Z felt very excited when I asked her if she would like to go on a dinner date with me. Since my grandma's favorite food is Chinese food, I let her choose a Chinese restaurant. I don't normally eat Chinese food because my parents aren't big fans of it, but I was willing to take the chance! Grammy promised that she would try and get me dishes that she thought I would like. She called ahead of time to make sure it wouldn't be too crowded and since there weren't a lot of customers, we decided to go.

When we got to Crown Palace the first thing I noticed was the big fish tank filled with colorful fish! I made scary faces at the fish and some swam away which made me giggle. Once we sat down I asked Grammy if I could order a Shirley Temple and she allowed it! The drink was very good, but I should've asked for extra cherries!

The waiter brought out fried noodles with two sauces. I liked to dip the noodles in the duck sauce. I don't think that duck sauce actually comes from a duck! We ordered a wonton soup and the fried noodles were SO good in it! I liked how the warm soup made the noodles soft. When I went to get a fork so I could eat the wonton, I saw that the fork was BENT on the outside tips! It made me laugh because it looked silly. Grammy Z and I split a wonton since there was one and... MMMMM SO good!!! I liked the flavor of the meat inside and the doughy outside.
