

R&B Legend Kenny Lattimore Speaks on building love through the Pandemic, his classic song & NEW Album with DJ Exeptive

Why Kenny is dropping NEW music now.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, February 3, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Atlanta - DASH Radio regular and R&B sessions DJ, DJ Exeptive takes us back to the basics of love and R&B in an interview with Kenny Latimore on the Exeptive Suite, which airs every Sunday at 6 pm EST/3 pm PST on DASH/TASTE Radio. The "For You" singer discusses building love and trust with his wife through the pandemic, advice to new artists, and his new album, "Here to Stay".

"Love never goes out of style." says the Grammy award nominee. After two decades and counting in the music industry, Lattimore explained that this mantra is how he's been able to stay fresh on the love scene. He also collaborates with a team and other young creatives that respect his legacy, and want to build something new that crosses into a new generation.

“

Love never goes out of style.”

Kenny Lattimore

When asked about what he's learned from previous relationships that influence his marriage and music, the "For You" singer stated that "[I've] learned to be freer in my communication...there have been times in the past where I've lived walking on eggshells. I said I would never bring anything inauthentic into my marriage."

Bringing such authenticity to the craft may sound easier said than done, but Lattimore assured DJ Exeptive that he had to figure it out for himself. Lattimore recalled performing alongside Rochelle Pharrell and feeling inadequate. He said, "I was good in general, but I'm not sure that I always embraced that I was good enough to be where I was." Now, he says to young artists, "Just relax, kid. You don't have to be perfect. You don't have to prove that you're anything every single time you go out.”

With all of the wisdom and knowledge he has gathered, Kenny Lattimore has recently put together a new album entitled “Here to Stay”. He says, “Here to Stay is really my commitment to the love song... The love song is here to stay... My dedication to growth is here to stay...This is an album that reflects my relationship right now and what I’m living.”

In his last statement in the interview, Lattimore says, “I’m being vulnerable not only in the lyrics but as a recording artist and stepping out of my comfort zone to do something a little different. I hope you love it.”

Subscribe to The Exeqtive Suite for new video interviews with today’s hottest R&B artists weekly on YouTube. Follow @djexeqtive to keep up with new music and Live events with DJ Exeqtive on Instagram.

Janet Igah
Doe Media & Publishing, INC.
studio@jjjane.com

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/562251932>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2022 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.