

ALICIA KALI WINS 10th INTERNATIONAL STEVIE® AWARD CELEBRATES STUDY DISSIPATING TAU PROTEINS

Woman Of The Year Expands on TBI and CTE, To Help Post Covid Sufferers

WOODBURY, MN, UNITED STATES, February 3, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Purpose DRV'N Founder, Alicia Kali has been named the winner of a Bronze Stevie® Award in the Woman Of The Year category for her work with TBI victims, and post COVID-19 long haulers, at the 18th annual Stevie Awards for Women in Business. Winners were celebrated on January 13, 2022 during a virtual awards ceremony in New York City.

The Stevie Awards for Women in Business honor women executives, entrepreneurs, employees, and the companies they run- worldwide. The Stevie Awards have been hailed as the world's premier business awards. More than 1,500 entries from all over the world were submitted this year for consideration.

Part of my vast body of work in neuroregenerative biologics and nutrition, delivers the most vital answers in TBI and CTE I am thrilled to be giving people their lives back.”

Alicia Kali

Kali has dedicated over 30 years to understanding of, and simultaneous neuroregeneration of the brain and biochemical center of health, known as the sympathetic and central nervous systems. Her work delivers answers across numerous scientific and medical disciplines, providing answers to some of today's most troubling neurodegenerative diseases and conditions. Kali launched her non-profit project, Purpose DRV'N to help others several years after unfathomable suffering, and recovering the destruction of her own life from an mTBI in 2006.

"I decided to add COVID-19 long haulers to Purpose DRV'N's mission after over a year of being absolutely certain I could help them. I wanted to wait and see, I was concerned about being seen as some sort of opportunist, especially after seeing how much the TBI space still suffers from these types. In the end, I decided to move forward with what is best for people, that is the "call" after all. We are amid a massive transformation in the world right now, and nothing has changed. The notion that innovation is often borne of necessity is real, but after 30 years of waiting for modern medicine or nutrition to get on the right path, when multiple systems are broken on every level, just seemed unwise when people are suffering. Last but by no means least, I am absolutely thrilled to see the women of the world stepping up slaying dragons, this years Stevie nominees, and winners demonstrate the powerful leading and warrior spirit in female greatness." Said Kali.

Alicia Kali is the Founder of Purpose DRV'N non-profit, as well as Founder, CEO, CSO of Panacea Biomed. In 2020, Kali's company Panacea Biomed triumphed in Startup of the Year, Woman of the Year, Female Executive of the Year, Female Innovator of the Year, and Most Innovative Woman of the Year categories. She has won numerous awards in innovation and executive leadership since founding Panacea Biomed in 2015. To apply for help, please fill out the "contact" form at the Purpose DRV'N website.
