

YKOFX to Introduce a New Mutual Funds Platform

YKOFX to offer transacting, clearing and settlement services for mutual funds

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, February 6, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- YKOFX, a Pan Asian exchange with innovative and robust product suite that provides its clients with some of the best trading facilities, today announced that it will expand its services into a new business area that will extend the efficiencies of equities trading and settlement to the mutual fund industry. The YKOFX Platform will facilitate purchases and redemptions of mutual funds using proven trading, clearing and settlement infrastructure.

We are very grateful for their ongoing insights, input and support.”

Seiji M. Aoki

By leveraging connectivity, systems and processes well established in the industry, the new platform will provide registered dealers with easy access to a broad range of investment funds. Mutual funds posted on the YKOFX platform will be visible to all participants who currently trade YKOFX products, which coupled with inherent support for bulk trading, creates a new, efficient distribution channel for mutual fund manufacturers.

YKOFX is positioned to facilitate the next transformation in mutual fund processing. The concept behind YKOFX was developed in collaboration with select industry participants. To ensure that the final solution meets industry-wide needs and reflects industry best practices, recently formed the YKOFX Working Assembly, which will help finalize the details of the offering.

"We are extremely excited to partner with a broad set of industry stakeholders and together we create an industry-neutral solution that will benefit the whole market," said Seiji M. Aoki, President & CEO, YKOFX. "We are very grateful for their ongoing insights, input and support."

The YKOFX Working Assembly includes representatives from a wide range of the financial industry top players.

YKOFX's centralized mutual fund solution, which is expected to launch in the next quarter subject to industry readiness, leverages the broad range of YKOFX assets and trading capabilities, including the settlement of transactions through its clearing firms.
